Keep our air and water clean by driving less.

New Haven has the highest percentage of residents who walk or bike to work.

Walk, bike, roll or skip to your destination.

According to walkscore.com, downtown New Haven is a walker’s paradise.

With a score of 94/100, daily activities on Yale’s campus do not require a car.

“A developed country is not a place where the poor have cars, it’s where the rich use public transportation.”

Enrique Peñalosa, former Mayor of Bogotá, Colombia

Of the 10 largest cities in New England, New Haven has the highest percentage of residents who walk or bike to work.

Visit to.yale.edu for transportation options.