Viva La Veggie

Limiting meat intake to once per day can be good for you and the planet. Eating more fruits and vegetables can reduce risk of chronic disease, heart disease, and diabetes.

Raising animals for food requires significant amounts of land, food, energy, and water, 51% or more of global greenhouse gas emissions are caused by animal agriculture.*

*source: Worldwatch Institute